Hands-On Workshop

Join Us for an Interactive Human Cadaver Hands-On Course

This advanced course is designed to provide the realistic experience of a clinical setting through the use of cryopreserved human specimens. The soft and hard tissues of these specimens respond as they would in a live patient's mouth, offering a highly realistic and practical learning environment.

Unlike other courses where the bone may feel artificial or of "styrofoam quality," this course allows participants to experience true tissue behavior during procedures.

We look forward to your participation!

Speaker

Alejandro Prieto García, DDS (Spain)*

Dr. Prieto García is a dentist specialized in oral surgery and implantology with extensive clinical and teaching experience. He earned his Dentistry degree from the European University of Madrid (UEM) in 2009 and has served as an associate professor at the Autonomous University of Madrid, Hospital Universitario La Paz, teaching clinical courses in implantology and oral surgery.

Since 2010, Dr. Prieto García is leading a private practice at Clínica Magdental, where he directs clinical stays and training courses in implantology and bone regeneration. He has also contributed as a surgeon and educator at Clínica Esteban-Castán, Clínica Dental Pola Morales, and participated in international residencies and advanced surgical courses, including transzygomatic implantology at Instituto Davó.

An active member of the European Association for Osseointegration, Dr. Prieto García has published in scientific journals and has been officially recognized for his humanitarian dental work in Laos and Nicaragua. He regularly attends international implantology and surgery courses, keeping at the forefront of modern techniques in hard and soft tissue management, bone regeneration, and guided implantology.

This clinician has, or within the past two years, been bound by a financial relationship with ZimVie for conferences, advice and other services.

Program Overview

Course Description

This intensive two-day course, led by Dr. Alejandro Prieto, focuses on full-arch implantology and bone regeneration using digital workflows. Participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of contemporary techniques in implant placement, guided bone regeneration (GBR), and soft-tissue management, particularly in aesthetic and atrophic zones. The course combines theoretical lectures with hands-on cadaver sessions, allowing attendees to apply digital protocols and advanced surgical techniques in a controlled environment. By bridging the gap between digital planning and clinical execution, this program equips dental professionals with the knowledge and skills to achieve predictable, long-term outcomes in complex full-arch rehabilitation cases.

Course Goals

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

1. Understand the principles of full-arch implantology and digital workflows for treatment planning and execution.
2. Perform guided bone regeneration (GBR) techniques, including vertical bone augmentation and management of hard and soft tissues in aesthetic zones.
3. Apply advanced protocols for atrophic maxilla cases, including the use of PTFE membranes and other regenerative materials.
4. Integrate digital planning with clinical procedures to achieve predictable and functional full-arch rehabilitations.
5. Develop hands-on surgical skills through cadaver lab sessions, enhancing confidence in complex implantology procedures.
